

Santa Paws Party raises funds for hunger Sunday

The Capital Times
December 5, 2008

A Santa Paws Party will be held Sunday from noon to 3 p.m. at the Ruffin' It Resort dog day care center to raise funds for the Second Harvest Food Bank in southern Wisconsin.

"The primary goals of this event are to bring awareness to the services Second Harvest Food Bank provides to Southern Wisconsin, to raise funds to provide meals for those in need, and to host a fun event for all four-legged and two-legged friends," said Mandy Penisten, Alpha Dog at the resort and day care center.

Tickets to the party cost $2 for those who bring along a contribution of food and those without a food donation must pony up $4. Alpha Dog Penisten promises "a great fundraising event with rein-dog games, pictures with Santa, human treats provided by Silly Yak Bakery, hot chocolate eggnog, face painting, silent auction and enough fun to last through the holiday."

Sharkey Animal Portraits to take pictures of guests with Santa. Ruffin It Resort is located at 635 Struck St. Additional information on the Santa Paws Party can be found at Ruffin' It Resort's Web site, Second Harvest's Web site or The Silly Yak Bakery's Web site.

Return to story